POLICY

The university supports the principles detailed in the Florida “Good Samaritan Act.” Employees are encouraged to provide emergency care or treatment to a fellow employee, student or visitor. In accordance with the Act, individuals “... who gratuitously and in good faith render emergency care or treatment ... without the objection of the injured victim or victims ..., shall not be held liable for any civil damages as a result of such care or treatment ... where the person acts as an ordinary reasonably prudent person would have acted under the same or similar circumstances.”

All employees are covered by this policy.
