Please note: Living expense estimates are based on shared accommodations and reflect a very basic standard of living.

SOURCES OF SUPPORT

When you compute your support (below), bear in mind that federal regulations severely restrict employment eligibility for individuals in Student (F) and Exchange Visitor (J) status. Therefore, you should not look to employment, either part-time during the academic year or full-time during the summer, as a significant means of support while at Florida Institute of Technology. F-2 dependent spouses and children are not permitted to work under any circumstances. J-2 Exchange Visitor dependents may apply for employment authorization from U.S. Citizenship & Immigration Services. Funds from J-2 employment may not, however, be used to support the Exchange Visitor and his/her family. The request for work authorization must clearly document family finances/expenses and affirm that the J-2 dependent is seeking work permission for other reasons (i.e., professional development, money for travel, etc.).
