Syllabus

Course Description: This course surveys global issues arising since 1099, with an emphasis on the post-World War II era. It will take an approach centering on history, political science, and economics. Emphasis is given to the interaction of the superpowers during the Cold War, the post-colonial emergence of the Third World, the ascendancy of regional and international economic and political institutions and the reshaping of the contemporary world. Also, it is designed to assist students in developing their ability to communicate clearly through their writing.

Course Objectives: (1) To introduce students to the disciplines of history, political science, and economics. (2) To give students a basic knowledge of the key events and themes of the post-World War II era. (3) To explore the course and consequences of the post-colonial world. (4) To help students understand the impact of technology on the history, politics, and economic life of nations.

Course Requirements: (1) There will be three quizzes given during the semester. Each will count for 25% of the final course grade. The final exam will not be cumulative. (2) There will be six short papers submitted by each student. These papers will count for 25% of the final course grade. Topics and paper due dates will be supplied by the instructor. Unexcused late papers will not be accepted at all. The course final grade will be computed from the average of the three quizzes and six papers applied to the following grade scale:

- 90-100 = A
- 80-89 = B
- 70-79 = C
- 60-69 = D
- 00-59 = F

Academic Dishonesty: Any form of academic dishonesty, especially plagiarism, will not be tolerated. Such dishonesty will result in a grade of “0” for the assignment and/or a failing grade for the course. All papers must be submitted to www.turnitin.com by the due date, or they will not be accepted.
