Re: Changing course restrictions: BEH 3550

Students completing their fieldwork/practicum in Applied Behavior Analysis will be preparing to work with children, and as such, will need to pass a background check prior to beginning the practicum. To prepare students, we are adding a line to the current catalog description, set to appear in the 2014/2015 catalog, that explains students need to have passed a background check in order to take the course (see below; added line in bold). The background check will be verified by the course instructor, so we are also adding the restriction of “Instructor Approval” for students to sign up for the class.

BEH 3550: FIELDWORK IN APPLIED BEHAVIOR ANALYSIS

Provides undergraduates with applied experience using basic principles of behavior analysis while working with children with autism, related disabilities and/or behavioral issues. Provides practical experience and fieldwork hours for students interested in becoming Board Certified Behavior Analysts. May be repeated for a total of nine credits. Students need to have passed a background check prior to the start date of the class. (Requirement: Instructor approval). Prerequisites: BEH 3465 or PSY 4466.
The addition or removal of any restriction or change in credit hours in a course requires that this form, accompanied by any supporting documentation, be completed and approved as indicated below.

Memo

To: Undergraduate Curriculum Committee
CC: COPLA online
From: Vanessa Edkins
Date: 8/12/13 (amended 8/26/13)

Re: Changing course requirements: PSY 3421, PSY 3423, PSY 3441, and PSY3543

In order to ensure that our students are adequately prepared for their junior-level courses, we are, as a program, revisiting course pre-requisites for 3000-level courses. The Undergraduate Psychology Program is recommending the following changes:

1. Adding PSY 2512: Research Methods and Statistics 1, a sophomore-level course that focuses on study design and basic statistics, as a pre-requisite to PSY 3421: Psychology of Learning and Motivation and PSY 3423: Physiological Psychology. We believe that a background in basic statistics, research methods and design will help the students’ better grasp the research-intensive material in the courses.

2. Adding either PSY 2512: Research Methods and Statistics 1 or BUS 2703: Business Statistics as a pre-requisite for PSY 3441: Social Psychology and PSY 3543: Psychology of the Workplace. Both junior-level courses are also research-intensive but we recognize that a background in basic statistics should adequately prepare the students, meaning that PSY 2512 or BUS 2703 (awarded to many of our transfer students who arrive with a previous class in statistics) will suffice.

Amendment: I neglected to include the equivalent course for our Florida Tech online students. The online program has been notified and has endorsed the changes in restrictions; the proper course equivalencies for the online courses are PSY 3012 (online equivalent of PSY 2512) and EST 2703 (BUS 2703 equivalent). Each document has been amended to add these two courses as “or” requirements for each mention of PSY 2512 and BUS 2703.

Re: Changing course requirements: PSY 3522, PSY 3524, PSY 4413, PSY 4515, and PSY 4541

During the 2012/2013 academic year, we replace our PSY 3513: Psychology Research Methods and Statistics 2 class with the more rigorous, higher-level PSY 4514: Psychological Research Methods and Statistics 2. To reflect this change, we are requesting that all courses with the current PSY 3513 pre-requisite now require either PSY 3513 (for those who took the previous version of the class and have not yet graduated) or PSY 4514 as a pre-requisite.
